The Petroleum Economist Ltd & Euromoney Energy Training

For seventy-five years, The Petroleum Economist Ltd has been one of the world's most recognised energy publishing brands. We publish a monthly magazine, a portfolio of global and regional maps, and a series of books and reports as well as providing open and in-house training courses for major companies in the industry through the Euromoney Energy training group.

Our clients include:

- The top 50 international oil companies
- The top 30 national oil companies
- The sovereign governments (ministries and agencies) of OECD and OPEC countries
- Analysts and fund managers from the world's leading financial institutions

We are the official publisher for the triennial conferences organised by the World Petroleum Council, the International Gas Union and the World Energy Council.

Petroleum Economist - The Authority on Energy

The monthly magazine, established in 1934, is available by subscription only. It provides a macro-economic and geopolitical analysis of the industry and is recognised globally for its incisive, authoritative and independent coverage of the world's energy industry.

Euromoney energy training offers public and in house courses delivered by academics and practitioners.
